Hatton is Man of Year

PAHOKEE — More than 100 people turned out for Saturday night for the 29th annual Chamber of Commerce dinner to honor outstanding citizens of the community and hear a talk by Florida Rep. T.F. "Tom" Lewis.

The distinguished honor of being named "Citizen of the Year" was awarded J. Ray Hatton, a Pahokee resident since 1952, farmer, contractor and community leader. A produce and sugar cane grower for many years and now associated with Pee-Hockey Ltd. in housing construction, Hatton was recognized for his most recent efforts in the planning and remodeling of the Pahokee Theatre, and helping to raise funds for the Pahokee High School band to participate in the New Orleans Mardi Gras, in addition to his on-going years of community service.

Hatton was presented the award by Chamber President Bruce Bowe who described Hatton as "a builder and mover."

Two awards for Distinguished Community Service were also presented. Nola Nagler, Pahokee Band president for the past 15 years, was honored for spearheading the $26,000 fund-raising effort that financed the band trip to New Orleans, and Robert Shadford, executive director of the Pahokee Ambulance Service, for his work developing and expanding ambulance service for the city. The plaques were respectively presented by Lucy Baines and Commissioner Robert Wally.

A second honor was bestowed on the Arthur Nagler family when daughter Faryl received the Chamber of Commerce STAR poster award, presented by Simon Train.

The Past Presidents Plaque was presented to Simon Train by Doris Wetherington.

Winners of the Holiday Decoration Awards were presented plaques by Bryan Lewis and Mrs. William Hatton won in the residential category and the Rose Petal Florist shop, in the commercial division.

Speaker at the dinner, held in the Elks Club and catered by the Ladies of Pahokee Elks, was Rep. Lewis who made a preliminary announcement that the plans for Pahokee's "park" design have been submitted for federal approval from the National Resources.

Sen. Lewis' office later confirmed that he was referring to plans for renvating the State Park lake-front seriously eroded by the raising of the lake level.

He described a bill which he will introduce during the forthcoming legislative session that would

Runoff set in Pahokee for mayor, Mock wins

PAHOKEE — Having elected candidate Jon Mock as councilman, voters will return to the polls Tuesday to choose between Wynona Cummings and Noma Norman for the post of mayor.

In voting Tuesday none of the four mayoral candidates garnered a majority of the 803 votes cast. First place showed 222 for Miss Cummings and 223 for Norman with Robert Welty receiving 210 and Mead Maxwell, 159.

In the vote for the council seat Mock collected 482 votes compared with 165 for William Duke, 159 for Gary "Bucky" Sanders.

The run-off election will be held May 13, according to City Clerk Betty McCoy with the polling place again open from 7 a.m. until 7 p.m.

With some 100 persons registered to vote, the turnout represented more than 50 percent of the electorate. Unofficial figures show, however, that 56 of the votes for mayor and 81 in the vote for councilmen were not counted in the tally.

Asked about the discrepancy, Mrs. McCoy said Wednesday morning that the ballots had not yet been inspected, but she said she did note that as the ballot cards were fed into the tabulating machine, there were some with "swinging punches" and others with "all the holes punched."

"There are always some misvotes," she said, "but I think it generally is a lack of knowledge about how to operate the machine."

Although residents were prevented from gathering around the fire station polling place Tuesday, a traditional custom disallowed this year when Miss

Cummings indicated she would protect it as a violation of the state election laws. The council chamber was crowded Tuesday night with residents of all ages awaiting returns.

The immediate results of Tuesday's voting are that Welty, a 24-year-old councilman who has been serving as president, and Norman are off the council.

Incumbent George

Rashley retains his seat which was uncontested and Hiram Rainey, also uncontested in the election, joins the council. Mock, a 23-year-old first-time campaigner, and the only council candidate to appear on the ballot, is also added to the council.

Wyonia Cummings in next Tuesday's voting to decide which of the two becomes the new mayor of Pahokee.

Superwalk is Saturday

BELLE GLADE — The all-new Eighth Annual March of Dimes Glades Superwalk will get underway at 8 a.m. Saturday when Glades marchers join a national Blister Brigade to walk a mile for the life of a child.

Palm Beach County poster Child, 2-year old Erin Albertson, lost last Thursday and Friday in Glades area schools, making 15 presentations to arouse the students' interest in the walk and give them ideas about why they should be doing it. She'll also be walking for Saturday's walk.

Erin, a bright, vivacious child, is as full of energy as any two-year old. It's hard for one to connect her with birth defects until closer attention reveals she has only one arm, that the other is a prosthesis.

Palm Beach County March of Dimes Director Judy Walker said this is the kind of birth defect the March of Dimes, and the "Superwalk," is all about. Money raised in the Glades Walkathon will go toward research to prevent these birth defects as well as toward the county clinic to treat them.

Erin's, for instance, and she'll have to have seven as she outruns them one by one, have been completely paid for by the March of Dimes. She's being fitted for a new one in the near future and the March of Dimes is paying for that too. The prosthetics get more expensive the older she gets.

Glades County Coordinator Roy Rausch noted that one of the advantages of giving to the March of Dimes, in the form of sponsoring walkers to the tune of so much per mile, is that the vast majority of the donations received by the charity go directly to the need, rather than being eaten up in administrative costs.

"We've got everything locked up tight," Rausch said. "We have the food and everything."

He said registration will begin at 8 a.m. in the field behind the Glades Central annex, and walkers can begin their march for birth defects as soon as they're signed up.

The walk will begin across the Glades Central campus to North Canal Street, lead west to SR715, north to Avenue L, east to Duda Road, south to the dike on the north bank of Hillsborough Canal, west again to SR715, north to Avenue

L, east to the field where the walkers will be registered.

Rausch said there will be three checkpoints besides the start and finish lines. There will be three pooper vans patrolling the route and he said three police cars are being assigned to the walk zone.

Election Day in Pahokee has always gone hand-in-hand with freedom of assembly, with residents gathering on the lawn in front of the fire station, polling place to gossip, politic and renew old acquaintance. This year the state law was enforced that prohibits such activities within 1,000 yards of a polling place. Backtalk asked some Pahokee residents this week how they felt about the change.

Marguerite Maxwell — I'm protesting right behind the line where we can carry on what we've been carrying on for years. I've been coming out for Election Day since I was a child. I can remember when we used to bury the losers with flowers and everything right after the election. We're all friends and neighbors here and tomorrow the election will all be over and forgotten.

Novella Hickerson — I didn't give it any thought but I think you should be able to gather 'round if you want to.

Bob Simonson — I didn't see that it did any harm. It was kind of like Old Home Week. I know the law is the law and maybe it has a purpose that I don't understand.

Betty Hatton — It is a tradition that's been going on for years and I think it should be reinstated.

Cooperation was the key

Some of the greatest news to come down the pike lately came this week when Palm Beach Junior College President Ed Eissey signed a contract with Wallace Lutz to build the long-planned and anticipated auditorium on the Glades campus.

The Education and Cultural Center, to give it its proper name, had been needed so badly and so long that Glades campus Provost Cecil Conley said he could have had it booked for the next two years if it were now standing.

That's believable because the Belle Glade-South Bay area simply has no facility at all that could remotely be considered a public auditorium, particularly not anything that could seat 500 people and provide them with anything like comfort and proper acoustics.

Pahokee now has the Prince Theater and that's a tribute to the fine people who undertook the renovation of that landmark but it has only recently opened its doors and wouldn't fill the void as does the proposed auditorium.

The college auditorium is especially welcome since it comes as the direct result of cooperation between the college itself, government on three different levels and private enterprise.

Aside from the college's obvious interest, private enterprise was involved deeply and early when the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida donated $78,000 to the building fund of the college, way back when George Wedgworth was instrumental in getting the land for the campus.

The $78,000 was originally intended to buy the property but it was donated by the state. Then the money was to be used to pay for campus buildings but the original building was paid for out of college funds. That left the donation to gather interest and form the core of local funds to be matched on a two to one basis by the state.

The county government became involved early with a $200,000 donation which brought the local contributions up to a total of $300,000; the local share for what was expected to be a $900,000 building.

The county commission was involved again two weeks ago when Dr. Eissey requested and received, another $200,000 donation after the bids were finally received and the low bid came in at almost $1.6 million.

That left another $32,000 in non-educational local funding that was needed and that's where the City of Belle Glade came in. The city commission unanimously agreed last week to make up the entire difference.

All too often, editorials are a newspaper's way of throwing bricks at public officials. That's why it's so pleasurable to throw bouquets at times and bouquets are called for this time.

Bouquets and kudos go to Dr. Eissey and Trustee Dolly Hand for not giving up on a dream. The two provided a one-two punch for the college that couldn't be ignored and they went on when a lot of other people would have packed it in and thrown up their hands in despair.

A dozen of the florist's finest go to the county commission, particularly Bill Bailey, for kicking in the first $200,000 and backing that up with an equal donation when the crunch came on short notice.

A long stretch rose to each of the city commissioners, who saw the need and contributed the final $32,000, also on short notice and at a time when money is tight and federal funding for future projects is uncertain at best.

Finally, kudos to the board of directors of the Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative of Florida, and particularly George Wedgworth, without whom it's probable that neither the auditorium nor the Glades campus would have become a reality.

Just thought you, the public, would want to know.

Some dime!

What difference can a dime make?

Well, listen to what difference President Carter's proposed dime per gallon tax on gasoline can make to Florida farmers.

According to recently released USDA figures, 48,459,000 gallons of gasoline will be used by Florida farmers this year, not counting another 84,323,000 gallons of diesel fuel.

If the farmers are taxed along with the rest of us on the Carter tax, and it looks now as though they would be, that means Florida farmers' cost of producing food and fiber will be jacked up another $4.8 million.

That's a whale of a difference.

Gordon Liddy's "Will" is now known

By H.G. Duncan

So, G. Gordon Liddy has decided he "owes a debt to history," and has had published his version of the events leading up to Watergate and beyond.

How sweet! I waited so long.

One would think a man who tries to exude a character of stoicism and taciturnity and unbendable loyalty to those he supported, would continue his silence.

This is the guy who, when asked by the bloated bigot, Sam Erwin, if he would "solemnly swear to tell the truth," etc., replied, "No."

One doesn't have to wonder if the $13.95 to buy Liddy's book, WILL, unless one has an eye for comedy. Excerpts from this monumental work are in a recently published issue of TIME Magazine.

As I read and chuckled at the antics of one of King Richard's court jesters, there emerged from the depths of my semi-conscious mind a familiar character. He finally stepped out of the fog, wearing his trench coat and cute little hat: Inspector Clouseau of PINK PANTRI fame.

It seems that most everything Liddy tried to do turned to mush. Most of his schemes were disengaged when he had the bad judgement to outline them for his authority.

For example: He planned to have some of his henchmen burst into McGovern's room during the Democratic National Convention while McGovern was holding a press conference. They were to be wearing McGovern buttons, carrying their inseparable signs, and cheering him on. They then, according to script, were supposed to mutate the rug. Liddy outlined his plan to John Mitchell, the Attorney General, who immediately disapproved it since he would be occupying that same room in the follow-on Republican Convention.

Liddy tried to recruit a lady of the evening for his "hit," but she refused to be used against the enemies of His Majesty. To demonstrate that he would "never betray" her, he allowed her to hold a cigarette lighter under his bound palm until "the flesh turned black" and emitted the "scent of burning meat."

Yes. Of course.

This potential recruit, however, thought that Liddy was trying to proposition her, his remarks being somewhat cryptic, I suppose. She declined his offer.

Liddy kindly offered to Howard Hunt to "kill" Jack Anderson, the columnist. Few perceptive people would argue that the silencing of Anderson's typewriter would not be a misfortune, but I doubt that anyone wants him dead.

But the prospects were not sufficient enough to be dismissed by Hunt, Liddy and some of the CIA doctors as to the best means to do it. It was decided to recruit Cubans for the "hit." Liddy kindly offered to do the job himself should the Cubans fail.

The Cubans obviously refused, and Liddy never carried out his offer. Wonder what happened.

Another character is emerging. I think it is emerging. He had this scheme characteristically labelled "Nacht und Nebell" (Night and Fog). He referred to his henchmen as the Special Action Group.

leaders to temporarily disappear. He had this scheme characteristically labelled "Nacht und Nebell" (Night and Fog).

Explaining his planned dirty tricks to be executed at the Republican National Convention, Liddy told John Mitchell that he would cause the protest

CRACKER CRUMBS
BY DEAN JONES

Anybody who's read about the Spanish-American War remembers the famous message to Garcia. Well, I have a message from Garcia and I thought it was worth passing along.

The message came up a week ago Sunday when a group of us were sitting around waiting at the Catholic Church here for a meeting of local Cubans, who were organizing an association of the Cuban Patriotic Association, to get started.

Jesus Garcia came in, after having taken time to go home and clean up after getting in from Key West and he was talking, first of all, about the Cuban sealift and then shifted over general political philosophy and the man made good sense.

We Americans, Garcia said, don't have any idea what it's like to live under a totalitarian regime such as the one headed up by Fidel Castro.

I heard the message before, not only from Cubans talking about what life's like there nowadays but also from several refugees from the Hungarian uprising of 1956 and even from a college classmate who was talking about the comparative benevolent monarchy of the Kingdom of Tonga.

The point was the same. Here in America, we've grown so used to having things all our own way, we take our freedom for granted and, what would be heresy among most Americans, we have an overdose of that freedom.

I don't think anyone would argue that we oughta give up things like elections and the liberty to go into business for ourselves to earn our daily bread. Nor does anyone I've come into contact with want to give up the basic freedoms guaranteed by the Constitution.

But when this country is in the situation we're in today in regards to the Iranian hostage situation, why do we, for crying out loud, have to look for every way we can find to criticize the way that situation is being handled by the president.

Maybe the situation is the way Jesus painted it. We've grown so fat and sassy by taking so much from the government, maybe we don't want to see what we can do for the country...not even refrain from the constant harping we've all seen coming from every pundit who has access to a typewriter and every Congressman who has access to a typewriter.

No, not all. That isn't fair. There have been a few who've shown amazing restraint.

But I can't be myself when I've got a typewriter. A critic offered gratis to President Carter about attempting to rescue the hostages being held in Iran and, once the attempt was made, about failing in that mission.

Don't get me wrong. If I'm the biggest Carter fan in this country, he might as well say goodbye to the White House today, but why, for crying out loud, can we stick together just this once.

I really believe the man did what he thought was right in sending in Col. Beckwith's Delta Force and, in the unlikely case someone had bothered to ask me my opinion in advance, I'd have said Godspeed, give'em one for me while you're at it.

Then, there's all this second guessing. Why not use more equipment, more helicopters, more men? Well, according to Col. Beckwith, he had everyone and everything he could possibly need. I don't know more about mounting a rescue mission to Iran than did the people involved.

It's possible, but unlikely, that Col. Beckwith did quash the rumors that he had been overruled and when he still wanted to go ahead, the President said no.

It's unlikely because the rumormongers are at work. It doesn't matter whether they don't have sufficient information or accurate information to intelligently comment one way or another. They've made up their minds and they'll not be dissuaded by facts.

Then, there are the Congressmen, both senators and representatives, who've had their pride hurt by not being asked their opinion before the mission was launched and who just can't wait to get their teeth into anyone involved.

Face it. If the advice of Congressmen had been asked, the story

South Bay sewer leaks can be costly

SOUTH BAY — City residents who fail to repair sewer leaks on their property could face fines up to $200 a day according to an ordinance adopted on the first reading Tuesday night by the city commission.

"No person," the ordinance reads, "shall discharge or cause to be discharged into any sanitary sewer any stormwater, surface water, groundwater, roof runoff, subsurface drainage, cooling water, air conditioning and refrigerating waste waters or unpolluted industrial process waters."

The ordinance provides for a penalty of $200, with each and every day following the original citation to be considered a separate violation.

City Public Works Director Lomax Harrelle said he proposed the ordinance in light of a recent smoke test of the city's sewer system that revealed 116 open services on private property.

Harrelle said these leaks could cause major problem by allowing infiltration of the city system during heavy rains and that, as of now, the city doesn't have the authority to go on private property and demand that the private services be maintained.

He said the damaged lines could be caused by law mowers where the private lines are above the ground or when cars and trucks drive over the lines when they're near the surface.

The ordinance would make it the responsibility of the homeowner to maintain the force main. In other business, the commission:

Decided to sue former police chief John Gordonski for $2,450 the city supplied to send him to the police academy. Police Chief Ellis Burroughs said he had repeatedly contacted Gordonski and Gordonski had finally told him that in spite of a statute and an agreement he signed when coming on the force, he felt the matter should be decided on in court.

Voted, 4-1 with Mayor Tanner voting NO, to issue a license to allow the opening of the Candy Suprette, a grocery market, in the building which was known in the past as the Wilson Suprette.

The building, located on Palm Beach Road, is in an area zoned for multi-family dwellings. City Attorney Jim Gann noted Wilson's Suprette was grandfathered into a non-conforming use in the area.

He explained that, according to the statute, if the building is vacant for more than 90 days, it then loses its grandfather status and the owner would have to seek a variance to open a business, since it requires commercial zoning.

Commissioner Ray Sullivan moved the city issue the license after discussion revealed the city zoning board can't address the problem because its chairman, Sammy Rogers, resigned in February to run for the seat he now fills on the commission.

"I don't know what's going on," said Mayor Tanner, who reminded him the measure passed, 4-1.

Wilson to run

TALLAHASSEE—Former state Senator Lori Wilson today announced her candidacy for the U.S. Senate. Wilson will run as an independent.

Wilson, 43, of Cocoa Beach, served two terms in the state Senate from 1972-1978. She did not seek re-election when her term expired.

"I am running because I'm fed up with the political party games in Washington which have ruined our economy and brought us disgrace abroad. I believe the people of Florida want a different kind of leadership and I am an independent U.S. Senator I can provide that difference," she added.

Wilson said she chose to run as an independent, despite urging by many Democrats and Republicans that she seek the U.S. Senate seat by entering primaries.

"An independent candidate is a much harder route than running as a party candidate, but it will allow me to campaign free of party politics and special interests. Individuals of all stripes are fed up with politics as usual" and the winning candidate in November will be backed by a coalition of Democrats, Republicans and independents," Wilson said.

Wilson, 43, state Senator in a close race against two popular and well-financed Republican and Democratic candidates in 1972. Two years later Wilson was re-elected with almost 60 percent of the vote in another three-way race.

To be on the November ballot without party affiliation Wilson must gather three percent of Florida voters' signatures (about 127,000) on petition copy by July 22. Petition gathering is a routine Wilson used successfully to be on the ballot in her two state Senate races.

Wilson has never lost an election. Prior to serving in the state Senate she was a Brevard County Commissioner, the first woman Commissioner in the history. Later, she was a member of the Orange County Commission, the first female Commission Chairman in the state.

For the past two years Wilson has headed her own professional consulting business which advised businesses on labor matters and equal opportunity hiring and promotion.

"I retired voluntarily from the state Senate two years ago because I didn't want to become a permanent proponent of one party. In my consulting business I have traveled extensively, talking with people from virtually all living and job situations," she said.

"I am running because I'm fed up with politics as usual" and the winning candidate in November will be backed by a coalition of Democrats, Republicans and independents," Wilson said.

PBJC auditorium groundbreaking is Saturday

WALLACE LUTZ, right, is shown as he prepared to sign a contract with Palm Beach College for construction of the PBJC Glades auditorium. Dr. Edward M. Eissey, PBJC president, awaits his turn to sign.

A contract for construction of the PBJC Glades Auditorium, the first building ever to be built by PBJC with joint community and college financing, has been signed by Wallace Lutz of Lutz Construction Co., in Belle Glade.

The signing took place in the office of Dr. Edward M. Eissey, PBJC president, Thursday morning.

The amount of the contract was $1,995,959. Time for completion has been set at 485 days.

A groundbreaking ceremony for the new building has been set for Saturday, May 10, at 10 a.m. on the site. Actual construction, in the form of preliminary site work, will begin the following week.

Dr. Eissey said that members of the state legislature, the county commission, and the Belle Glade city commission, the three groups primarily responsible for funding the project have expressed an interest in being on hand for the ground breaking.

"In addition we have a number of prominent citizens in the Glades area to be present," Dr. Eissey said. "This is truly a joint effort of the college and the community."

The project was originally funded for only $900,000 with $800,000 from the community, double matched by the state.

But on Mar. 19, when bids were presented to the board of trustees, the Lutz bids was low, but almost $700,000 above the original funding, which had already been stretched, but only to about $1.1 million.

After some efforts at advanced funding were not successful, Dr. Eissey made last-minute appeals to the county commission and the Belle Glade city commission, and both were successful. The county added $200,000 and the city $20,000 to bring local contributions to a total of $382,000. State contributions of about $1.1 million will make the building possible.

"This is a happy occasion for the college and the Glades community," Dr. Eissey said at the signing.

"Interest in this building is unusually high in our area," said Lutz. "I'm happy we can be part of this joint venture."

County to stay downtown

County Administrative Offices apparently will remain in downtown West Palm Beach.

By a 3-2 vote Tuesday (April 29) the Board of County Commissioners agreed to go ahead with a new building and parking ramp adjacent to the present courthouse at Dixie and Second Streets.

Following a lengthy discussion, commissioners approved an original staff recommendation to construct new offices either on a parking lot just east of the courthouse or across the street on a half-block. The proposal was to move the city and the location of the former city hall and auxiliary buildings, including the downtown fire department which is being relocated.

Approval to stay in the downtown sector came because of a "swing vote" by Commissioner Bill Bailey who previously had held out for a move west to Palm Beach International Airport.

Bailey predicated his vote for downtown on his decision to "move ahead" on the project which has been in the mill for more than a year. He said his sentiments still were with the complex's original property to the west, but wanted to "get on" with the program. Bailey seconded a motion by Vice Chairman Frank Foster and the third vote was cast by Chairman David Clegg.

Board Member Peggy Evatt earlier had moved for a downtown site, but she wanted further bids from development teams. Foster's motion specified the development team of Haney and Clark, one of several who had made proposals to the commission in the past.

Upon questioning, Bill Clegg, manager of the county, said his firm would cooperate fully with the county staff and constitutional officers and follow bidding processes to assure the lowest and best construction bids by contractors.

Commissioner Norman Gregory voted with Mrs. Evatt, against the majority, but for different reasons. He said he has favored a Section 6 location for the complex, off Gun Club Road, on airport property, and stayed with his original stand.

Free parking for county employees and taxpayers doing business with the commission and administration was assured as part of the lease-purchase package with Haney and Clark, although the board is aware that costs for the parking plan will be built into the lease.

A 90-day negotiation period was approved for final details and the County Commission will have the final say on all cost and structural proposals.

In other business, the board kicked off the new Co-tran county bus system, which will initiate new and revised routes and slight fare increases on Sunday, May 4. A short presentation by resident manager Irving Gurek was followed by the "Co-tran" logo, standing for "Co-tran Transit," uniforms for bus drivers, desk plaques, pictures of one of the new 40-passenger coaches

18 Raiders going to state meet

BELLE GLADE—Glades Central boys track team members took three first places Friday in the Region 4AAA meet at North Shore High School and another Raider wound up in a photo finish for a first place to win the regional championship and a 18 of the thinnest to the state meet from the Friday in Winter Park.

First place wins were picked up by the relay medley team, by Charles "Bull" Miller in the shot put and by Willie McDonald said a judgement call sent Jessie Hester back from first place to third in the 100 yard dash.

Hester, running his second 100 yard dash in competition came up with the win this time. 9.8 seconds was posted by Ronnie Gilbert of Fort Pierce, Westwood and Richard Richards of North Shore and McDonald said several people, including himself, thought Hester had won the race.

McDonald said Cardinal Newman Coach Sam Budnyk was sitting beside him and offered to speak in his favor before the jury of appeals but the jury of appeals refused to hear McDonald's protest, saying he was right.

Glades Central girls track Coach Jay Seider said he saw the finish and from his angle, it appeared as though Hester had won, but he added, Hester was in lane one and lane one is sometimes looked over by the judges.

According to one report, Hester demonstrated, "an extraordinary amount of class and sportsmanship," after the race when he was told he had given third place in the dead heat finish.

"I don't really have anything to say," he said. "They called it and they're the ones that decide. I thought I had it but they made the decision and I'll go by it."

With the decision, Hester was one of the Raiders who qualified to go to the state meet scheduled for Showalter Field in Winter Park, Friday and Saturday, and McDonald noted, "there'll be photo finish equipment at that meet."

Wilford Morgan, as usual, won the high jump with a leap of 6'2", six inches less than his best effort this year, and again as usual, placed in all four field events he entered.

Morgan placed second in the long jump with a distance of 21'6". He was followed in third place by Eugene Wells with a distance of 21'2". Wells also placed sixth in the high jump, clearing the bar at 5'10".

Charles Miller placed first in the shotput with a heave of 54'3 1/4" and Morgan was fifth with a distance of 48'.

Miller came in second place in the discus with a distance of 154'0" and Morgan was third with a distance of 142'0".

The mile medley relay team scored the third first place for the Raiders when runners Arthur Monroe, Ray McDonald, Thaddeus Hall and Adam Ford ran the distance in 3:42.4. Their win avenged a second place finish a week previously when this was the only event during the district meet which the Raiders failed to win, a first place after Monroe dropped the baton.

The mile relay team won a second place finish in a time of 3:28.3. The runners were Robert Brown, Greg Bain, Dennis Bradley and Dennis Deneberry.

Eddie Lusane won a second place in the 120 yard high hurdles with a time of 14.6 seconds. Lusane won more points when he finished third in the 330 yard intermediate hurdles with a time of 44.0 seconds.

The 440 yard relay team won a second place finish in 45.5 seconds. The runners were Arthur Monroe, Ray McDonald, Elmer Duke and Jessie Hester.

Levelle McDonald assured himself a place on the team travelling to the state meet when the sophomore finished fourth in the mile run with a time of 4:42.

Jesse Hester finished fourth in the 220 yard dash with a time of 22.6 seconds.

Ericson Jackson was the last Raider to earn a trip to the state when he finished fourth in the 880 yard run, finishing in 2:01. Keith Seymore earned points for the Raiders in the regional meet, placing fifth with a time of 2:02.

The Raiders amassed a total of 87 points to win first place in the meet, more than doubling that of the second place team, Miami Archibald-Curley with 42 points.

Other team rankings were Fort Pierce Westwood in third place with 38 points, followed by St. Thomas Aquinas with 34, Suncoast with 31, Jupiter with 23, Miami Homestead with 22, North Shore with 22, Miami Pacific with 18, Miami Edison with 15, Okeechobee with 11, Cardinal Gibbons with 11 and Atlantic with eight points.

Coach McDonald said he will be looking for donations this week to help pay the way for his team to the state meet Friday and Saturday.

He said the team will be leaving Thursday.

Pahokee second in state

WINTER PARK — The Pahokee High school boys track team placed second in the state Class AA meet Saturday, winning with 41 1/4 points compared to winner Jefferson County's 57 points.

Blue Devil Coach Antoine Russell said the team was without the services of star athlete Leonard Johnson, who had been working all week to heal a pulled thigh muscle, only to pull it again at the last minute.

The Devils started out strong when Nathaniel Hannah jumped 21'1 1/4" in the long jump, good for a third place, and a high jump of 6'2" by Leonore Banks, coming in sixth.

Russell said Pahokee's outstanding quarter-mile running team placed off its first place win, finishing the 440 yard run in 49.9 seconds.

Another first place was won by the mile relay team of Nathaniel Hannah, Andre Water, Earl Williams and Albert Gandy, with a time of 11:25.2.

Earl Williams scored more points for the Devils when he finished third in the 120 yard high hurdles with a time of 14.9 seconds.

The 440 yard relay team of Lee Powell, James Jones, Michael Banks and Nathaniel Hannah finished third with a time of 43.9 seconds.

Earl Williams finished first in the 330 yard intermediate hurdles with a time of 40.1 seconds. Jerry Peet completed the individual events for Pahokee by placing sixth in the 880 yard run with a time of 2:04.

The Pahokee mile medley relay team of Lee Powell, James Jones, Albert Gray and Andre Water ran their best time of the year, in 3:36.7 to finish second behind Jefferson County.

PAHOKEE — Three disqualifications may be cost the Pahokee High School girls track team the state title Saturday at the State Class AA track meet in Winter Park, according to Coach Ken Buckner.

The Blue Devils did win the mile relay and placed sixth in the 440 yard relay. To pick up a total of 11 1/2 points but Buckner said the girls who were disqualified could have won or placed high in all the three events they were in.

Car flips, kills two Sunday

BELLE GLADE — A local woman and a South Bay man died Sunday when the car they were in left Airport Road and flipped into a canal 0.6 miles east of the city limits.

Dead at the scene were Alfred West, 36, of 1150

Palm Beach Ave. in South

Bay and his passenger, Moleen Lewis, 42, of 450

S.W. Ave. E in Belle

Glade, Florida Highway Patrol

Troopers W.M. Burroughs and Danny Purcell reported West had been driving west on Airport Road, "at a very high rate of speed," when, "for some unknown reason," his car left the road on the north shoulder, returned to the road, turned broadside and left the road again on the north shoulder, ending up upside down in the canal.

The troopers reported the weather was sunny and the road surface was dry at the time of the accident.

she tripped on the last hurdle and didn't place.

We lost as many as 20-21 points because of those disqualifications," Buckner said. "We had 11 1/2 points and that would have given us as much as 32 points. The meet was won with 31 1/2 points."

The mile relay team, which won the Devil's only first place, finished the time at 4:10.

The runners were

Tine Graham, Cassandra

dr. Robinson, Sylvia Re

In 1980,
4,300 homeowners
will save $739,000
and 24,000 barrels of oil.

Those are pretty impressive numbers. And they represent the energy savings of the 4,300 Watt-Wise™ homes currently within the FPL service area.

$739,000 buys a lot of electricity. Or a lot of other things for Watt-Wise home owners who don't have to spend it on their electric bills.

And 24,000 barrels of oil? That's 24,000 barrels that Florida Power & Light doesn't have to import from foreign sources at ever increasing prices. Which saves FPL money. Saves our customers money. And puts our country that much closer to energy independence.

Watt-Wise Living™ pays. So if you're planning to buy or build a new home, plan to make it a Watt-Wise home. FPL's money-saving Watt-Wise homes have features like extra ceiling and wall insulation, solar and heat-recovery units for water heating, a higher-efficiency air conditioner or heat pump, power savers like fluorescent lighting and a microwave oven, and thermally efficient windows and doors (with glass areas planned to minimize heat build-up). It may cost a little more now. But in the long run, it'll cost a whole lot less.

Watt-Wise Living. It saves you more than it costs. Ask your builder about it.

Farm Bureau urges caution

Gainesville — Calling the future of agriculture bright, Walter J. Kautz, president of Florida Farm Bureau Federation (FFBF), has urged farmers to "weather the storm."

"As you look at the high interest rates prevalent on today's markets, we caution all farmers to use only that credit they really need," Kautz said.

Now is the time for farmers to consider delaying purchase of some equipment and planning for improved cash flow, Kautz said.

Credit is available to farmers through Production Credit Associations (PCA); the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) and commercial banks, the president of the 87,000 member family FFBF said.

Kautz noted the price farmers pay for credit has increased 50 percent in the last year alone.

High interest rates affect everyone in agriculture, but some commodities, such as citrus, already face record prices and are being hurt worse. Kautz said some farmers have not yet been able to clear up last year's debts.

FmHA made $14 million in credits available to Florida farmers in April. More than $2 million of the money has been loaned, according to Charlie Alexander, FmHA farm programs specialist.

"The economic emergency is being made for planting, purchase of equipment, operating expenses and refinancing of existing debts," Alexander explained. Interest on the emergency economic loan is 14 percent, he added.

Eligibility is determined by the farmer's inability to meet his financial obligations.

Jerry Thomas, president of the mid-Florida PCA, described PCA's as being in good shape.

"At this time, we have however, next month we will be under some credit restrictions which will affect the scope of financing.

Call Mom early

"Happy Mother's Day!" Southern Bell predicts over 18 million people nationwide will express those Mother's Day greetings. Mom's medical day, May 11.

Bob White, Southern Bell spokesman in the Glades, explained that Mother's Day is the second busiest day of the year for long distance calling, exceeded only by Christmas. Last year, Floridians made nearly 1.2 million calls.

White, also pointed out, "The average business day call tends to be short, while Mother's Day calls last longer."

The low night and weekend rate begins at 11 p.m. on Friday, continues all day and all night Saturday and remains in effect until 5 p.m. on Sunday, he said. However, if you do choose to call on Sunday, the best time will probably be between 1 p.m. and 5 p.m.

When planning that important call to Mom, White suggests:

- Call early in the weekend to avoid the rush.
- Call when rates are lowest.
- Dial Direct—you save even more.

- Obtain numbers from Directory Assistance before the day.
- When making calls to the West Coast, call between 11 p.m. and 1 a.m., and take advantage of the low rates and time zone differences.

1980 Scout-O-Rama

BELLE GLADE — An estimated 450 Scouts from Belle Glade, Pahokee, South Bay, Clewiston and Moore Haven gathered Saturday to show off their skills and have fun at the 1980 Scout-O-Rama.

The scouts had displays ranging from the bucking barrel brought in by the Moore Haven Troop 622 and the monkeys being held by Belle Glade's Troop 622 to the bee hive display by Pahokee's Troop 628 and Clewiston Troop 629's pine wood derby.

In the meantime, there was a dunking tank in which two clowns were splashing into the water every time a pint-sized, and sometimes an adult, Bob Feller managed to bean a target disc with a softball, all of which was strictly for fun.

To one side was a pint-size carnival that featured a button toss, a flying saucer, in which the kids were sailing Frisbees through hoops, softball toss and other games.

There was one table set up where the cubs and scouts could test their accuracy with a hand axe, striking kitchen matches stuck into a couple of boards.

There was a space ship race inside the college building, where rubber-band powered space ships were raced along wires strung between two frames.

In late afternoon, crowds were drawn by the pine wood derby, where miniature cars carved from wood were raced down an inclined length of plywood and, still later, cubs and dads got together in teams of pushbunks to race each other and the older racers in the parking lot. The racers appeared to be

WHAT'S THE BUZZ? The buzz at this particular place and time was the bee hives being shown off by Pahokee scouts from Troop 628, who won first place for best overall display with the sweet little honey-makers. The Pahokee scouts demonstrated the bees in the hive, how the honey is extracted and clarified and even offered sample tastes.

South Bay gets into garbage

SOUTH BAY — The City Commission took the first firm step toward its own garbage collection system Tuesday night when the five commissioners decided to finance by a proposed system, with an estimated annual cost of $65,000.

At the motion of Commissioner Ray Sullivan, the decision was to seek financing to implement a plan which calls for two new garbage collection trucks and to hire two new men to assume the garbage collection for the city.

The city now pays South Florida Sanitation $89,500 a year to collect garbage while the city collects and hauls away the trash. Under the proposed system, the city would collect and haul away both.

The commission took the action despite a recommendation early in the commissioners' Public Works Director Lomax Harrelle, that the cost may run in excess of $70,000 a year, rather than the $56,000 mentioned in the plan. He said he based that figure, at least in part, on the estimated $10 per ton tipping fee which will be charged when the proposed transfer station in Belle Glade goes into business in a few months.

Mayor Don Tanner agreed the fees in the proposal reflect current costs rather than those which would be in effect when the transfer station goes into use, and both agreed the increased disposal fee would be reflected on every garage and trash collector in the Glades, private or public.

The proposal was drawn up as a joint effort by Harrelle, City Manager Charles Merz and representatives of Truxmore Industries, Inc. of Richmond, Va. During the preparation period, Harrelle and Merz visited Delray Beach and explored that city's operation and Harrelle visited the Truxmore plant in Richmond.

Merz and Harrelle said Delray Beach use Truxmore equipment and they're satisfied enough to have bought six new trucks in the past two months. Harrelle noted the plan calls for two new trucks, with one being a 27 yard model and the other a 29 yard gasoline-powered truck. He said he would only be using the gas truck about 30 percent of the time, with the diesel unit acting as first line and the gas unit as backup.

ERIN ALBERTSON Palm Beach County March of Dime's Foundation's Poster Child plans to attend the foundation's "super walk" in the Belle Glade Saturday. Erin, shown with her mother, Mrs. Stephen Albertson, along with Judy Walker, visited several schools in Belle Glade and Pahokee last week encouraging local youths to participate in the walk-a-thon.

The bucking barrel was a 55 gallon drum suspended between four utility poles sunk in the ground. Four ropes leading from the barrel were manned by Moore Haven scouts who created a plausible facsimile of a bucking bronco by pulling on the ropes.

three school records while picking up 92 points. The second place team was St. Thomas Aquinas, whose coach is 61 points in the 17-school competition.

Sheila Nix broke her own record for the third consecutive week in the shot put, hurling the eight-pound shot 41'10". Seider said the next best distance was just over 39 feet. Diane Burton placed fifth with a distance of 36'4" and Brenda Burton placed sixth with a distance of 35'8".

While she set no records, Carmen Crawford won two first places and picked up two second places.

She won the 100 yard dash with a time of 11.3 seconds and the 220 yard dash with a time of 25.9 seconds while placing third in the long jump, with a distance of 17'10" and helping the 440 yard relay team win a third place.

Following Miss Crawford in the 100 yard dash, Barbara Burton placed fifth with a time of 11.9 seconds. In the 220 yard dash, Sheila Ashley finished fourth with a time of 26.5 seconds and Barbara Bostick finished fifth with a time of 26.6 seconds.

Carla Redwood bested the Glades Central school record in the 330 yard intermediate hurdles with a time of 47.2 seconds, good for a second place.

Fleeta Hearst finished fourth with a time of 51.2

seconds and Rosalyn Green added a third place finish with a 51.4 second effort.

The mile medley relay team also won second place with a school record time of 4:09. The runners were Sheila Ashley, Sophie Dukes, Carla Redwood and Cynthia Crawford.

Miss Harrell also placed second in the 440 yard dash with a time of 61.2 seconds, earning her a place on the state-bound team.

Gloria Stewart placed second in the discus with a throw of 119'11", followed by Sheila Nix with a throw of 111'24". The winning throw, however, was 126'0".

Aside from Carmen Crawford's third place finish in the long jump, the Raiders earned points in that event from Fleeta Hearst, who finished fourth with a 17'7" effort, and from Sheila Ashley, whose fifth place, 17'10", was good enough.

Sheila Nix had day at the long jump, noting she set a new school record last week during the district meet when she leaped 18'6"."

In the high jump, Cynthia Harrell had a third place finish when she jumped 5'0".

The 400 yard relay team won third place when runners Barbara Bostick, Tanya Wilkerson, Sheila Ashley and Carmen Crawford finished in 51.4 seconds after dropping the baton.

The girls' 880 yard relay team also won a third place when runners Maria Redwood, Tanya Wilkerson, Linda Jackson and Betty McClorin finished at 4:35.5.

Dianne Bussie won fourth place in the 110 yard low jump.

Coach Seider said all the athletes finishing in the first four places will be travelling to Winter Park Thursday for the state meet there on Friday and Saturday.

Bikers to ride for cystic fibrosis

Police and sheriff's deputies will be keeping a close watch on SR715 Saturday morning as a group of Belle Glade and Pahokee attempt the 25-mile round trip from either end to earn pledges they've raised in the fight against cystic fibrosis.

In Belle Glade, cyclists will begin their ride at the Belle Glade Plaza under the direction of Mrs. Willie Mae Adams, Bike-a-thon chairman. The ride is scheduled to start at 9 o'clock.

Meanwhile, volunteers will have a rest area set up at Rardin Park with refreshments for the children and adults taking part.

Those who participate will get a bonus from Burger King in the way of a treat following the Bike-a-thon, according to Bob Sands, Burger King manager.

Selection is based upon participation in academic activities, as well as extracurricular activities. Applications are available in your county Farm Bureau office.

1,000 Cuban refugees go through Okeelanta

GUARDING THE GATE at the Okeelanta Sugar Mill Monday afternoon were Palm Beach County Deputy Sheriff Rick Murray and National Guardsmen, Spec. 5 Barry Finkey of the 149th General Supply Co. and Sgt. Charles Gottshall of the 20th Special Forces Group, both in Fort Lauderdale.

REUNITED AGAIN at the gate of Okeelanta Sugar Mill Monday afternoon were two brothers and their families. Standing in front was 10 year old Antonio Triana. Behind him is Luis Anado of Miami, his nephew, Arturo Triana, his brother, Arturo Triana and his wife, Amelia Anado.

SOUTH BAY — More than 1,000 Cubans brought into the United States over the past few weeks in the sealift from Mariel to Key West have been housed in shifts at the Gulf + Western Okeelanta Sugar Mill during the past week.

The sugar mill, located seven miles south of here on US 27, became involved as a temporary shelter for the refugees last week at the request of the mayor of Miami and the International Rescue Mission in Miami.

Initially, 140 single men between the ages of 18 and 35, who had families in the United States, were brought in a week ago Monday night. Those men had been processed by the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) by Friday and by the weekend, only 60 left, with 15 being offered employment by Gulf + Western, according to corporate spokesman Gary Martin in West Palm Beach.

The 140 men hadn't even been received before members of the Belle Glade Cuban community was involved, offering help, according to Gilberto Alvarez, and National Guardsmen from Fort Lauderdale, backed up by deputy sheriffs from the Glades station of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office, have helped hundreds of guards on the Okeelanta gate 24 hours a day.

Guards on duty Monday afternoon said the gate has often been the scene of emotional reunions between Cubans who came over on the sealift and relatives who had preceded them to the United States. One such reunion came on that afternoon when Luis Anado and his wife, Amelia, finally found his brother, Arturo Triana, after days of trying and even going to Cuba, only to be thwarted there by Cuban guardsmen.

Triana and his two sons, Antonio and Luis, were among the third batch of Cubans who have received clothing, food and other help at the Okeelanta mill. After 80 of the first lot of 140 left Friday, 500 more were brought in Saturday, then taken out Sunday to be processed, making room for 307 more who replaced them. An additional 82 were brought in Monday night.

Anado said he had taken a boat to Mariel, Cuba, where the sealift originated, with the specific purpose of bringing his wife and two sons to the United States. He said he realized he would be required to bring out several refugees from the Peruvian embassy along with relatives, but he said the situation was worse than that.

"They made me load on 200 other refugees but wouldn't let me bring my brother," he said. "They said his brother and nephews waited four days in Mariel without food, without water to bathe. They slept on the ground."

National Guard Spec. 5 Barry Finkey, of the 149th General Supply Co., Sgt. Charles Gottshall of the 20th Special Forces Group, and Deputy Rick Murray of the Glades station of the Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office, have helped hundreds of time over the past few days. They said 60 cars had arrived at one time Sunday, all bearing families hoping to find relatives. Most of the arrivals were from Miami.

Finkey and Gottshall said they've been working three-hour guard shifts at the gate since they arrived on Thursday.

They said they've been staying at the Days Inn in South Bay.

The demographic makeup of the refugees brought into the Okeelanta staging area has changed since the first group was brought in a week ago. Gary Martin said the original agreement was that only single males would be housed, but fed them all.

The second group, beside the men, contained four women, he said, while the third group contained no women but several children.

Glades area Cubans, according to Gilberto Alvarez, have been cooperating by trying to find articles of clothing and other necessities, some of which Gulf + Western is paying for before leaving to the local community to find, and some of which Gulf + Western isn't providing at all.

"The merchants in the area have been tremendous," Alvarez said. "They, particularly Royal's have opened warehouses at

MOTHER'S DAY

Part of being grown-up is buying a card for Mother on Mother's Day. Sometimes a lot of care goes into choosing the message that best says what we want to say. But alas! Grown-up sentiments are usually written by somebody else — few of us write our own.

Not so with little children. Their message may be simple, A bit muddled. But they can write, "I love you" and find everyday reasons for expressing their gratitude.

This week's Vista is a compilation of Mother's Day messages written by elementary school children to their mothers. All of them are poetry and some even rhyme.

But most of all, the messages tell all mothers that it's the little things that seem to count.

This is a poem I share with you, I hang a cherry up so high that shows much I love you. Ring how sweetly they ring and ring. I specially give you my heart to love someone. I love so very much. My mother is a very special person to share my love with her many years to come.

Advertising can be something that you absorb more than you think. This was brought home to me a few years ago when I was a babysitter for a bright three-year-old who could rattle off many of the TV jingles that were on the air at that time.

How would you rate on a quiz on how alert you are to some of those phrases that are directly associated with American companies?

These are advertisements that you can see in print or hear messages on the airways, seeking to make a favorable impression on you.

My mama makes me happy. Only she's my mama. My mama is nice to me. And that the way its going to be!

PAHOKEE — Fun and more fun was the name of the game Saturday, as more than 300 persons attended the Pahokee Elementary School spring carnival.

Featuring such attraction as "Dunk the Doc," principal Harris Blumberg sitting under a pail of water, with the lucky bulls-eye hitter getting the thrill of seeing the "Doc" all wet.

Other attraction included strike-out with Casey at the Bat, Fishing Pond, Ring toss, Lucky Boat pick, cake walks, craft shop, taco stand, and many others.

Dr. Blumberg said the steady stream of carnival goers emptying their pockets will enable the school to purchase a new indoor public address system and new playground equipment.

Mrs. Peggy Hatton, coordinator of the carnival with the assistance of an advisory committee the PES parent teacher organization said the carnival was quite a success.

Prior to Saturday's carnival, the school presented the annual May Day program with the crowning of fifth grade King and Queen, Darrell Hickman and Pamela Sandlin.

Kindergarten through Grade 4 pupils took part in several activities

Kiwanis honors laymen

BELLE GLADE — Members of the Kiwanis Club of the Glades paid tribute Thursday to the "Laymen of the Year."

Certificates were presented to the four for having made an "exceptional contribution" of their time and efforts to the church they belong to and to the spiritual life of the community.

Receiving the honors were George C. Goforth, Jr., of the First Baptist Church of Belle Glade; J.D. Stephen of Bell Glade Methodist Church; Joseph L. Murphy of St. Philip Benizi Catholic Church and Harvey M. Mathews of the Belle Glade Church of Christ.

The men were selected for the honor by their respective pastor Rev. Robert A. Smith, Rev. Mark O'Farrell, Father Paul Sagiv and Minister Tuck Andrew.

The awards ceremony was coordinated by Jack Shafer, chairman of the Kiwanis spiritual aims committee, and committee members Gene Collier, Michael Thompson and Chester Mullis.

Remarkable on the awards ceremony, Kiwanis President John Ellis said, "The Kiwanis Club is privileged to have these men living and working in the community."

KEEPING THE FAITH

BY THE REV. JOE ED McGAHEY

Community United Methodist Church

"Simon, Son of John, do you love Me more than these?" John 21:15

It was a short time after the resurrection, perhaps two or three weeks, when Jesus turned to Peter on the shore of the Sea of Galilee and asked this question. Already the disciples had seen Jesus at least twice, and Peter had seen Him one other time by himself. However, they still were unsure of their ministry or commitment or what either was supposed to be.

Peter and several of the apostles had been out fishing all night. Now they had just finished eating a breakfast that Jesus had prepared for them on the seashore. What if any conversation had taken place during that breakfast we do not know. But we do know the question Jesus asked of Peter after breakfast: "Simon, Son of John, do you love Me more than these?" What was the meaning of that question?

First, what are "these" that Jesus was referring to? "These" could have been many things. It could have been his boats and nets. That had been his work, his means of making a living. It could have meant the breakfast, as a symbol for what we call the necessities of life. It could have meant Peter's companions, or it could have been all of this and more. Jesus could have, with sweeping gesture of His hand, have been talking about it all.

Second, Jesus was using the word "gape" for "love." That is a God-like self-giving love, that loves no matter what. The kind of love expressed in I Corinthians 13: 4-7. It is a love that commits our whole being to the object of that love.

Simon, do you love me with a love that's total commitment? Is your life commitment? Is your life committed to me in total love?

Now Jesus is still asking us this same question. Have we committed our lives to Jesus above everything else in a commitment of love? Have we put Him first above everything else?

Jesus will not accept second place in our lives — it has to be first. Most of us want a form of Christianity with no real commitment. And so Jesus is asking, "Do we love him more than these?" Do we love him more than material success, more than pleasure or our hobbies? Do we love him even more than our family?

It is not necessarily bad things that get between us and our complete commitment to Jesus Christ. Many times it is good things that have gotten our of perspective. We certainly need a very real commitment to our families, our work or business, and our friends. But as important as these and other things we could name are, Jesus says, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." (Matthew 6:33)

FOUNDERS DAY DINNER of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority in Pahokee included presentation of a check for $10,000 to purchase an isolette unit for Everglades General Hospital. From left, Frank Steinberger, hospital administrator, accepts the check from Clark Wilkinson, chairman of the fund-raising project, as J. P. Parker, manager of Seven-Fifteen Farms, looks on. Seven-Fifteen Farms won $5,000 in the contest sponsored by the sorority and added it to the gift for the hospital, for a total $10,000.

Winning Cowbelle recipe

Short Ribs l'Orange

Winner of this year's Florida Beef Cook-off sponsored by the Florida Cowbellies Association was Barbara Horning from Brevard County whose recipe for "Beef Ribs l'Orange" topped some 60 entries in the judges' opinion.

Finals were held in Kissimmee April 25 with ten finalists preparing their recipes for the final judging.

The winning recipe will serve six people at about $1.30 a serving.

Beef Ribs l'Orange

2 lbs. lean short ribs
2 Tbsp. salad oil
2 cans (11 oz.) mandarin orange sections
1/4 cup cornstarch
1/2 cup orange marmalade
2 cans whole fingerling carrots, drained

1 tsp. salt
16 medium size mushrooms

Wipe short ribs with damp paper towels. Trim excess fat. Slowly heat oil in large skillet or dutch oven. Brown meat well, turning on all sides, about 20 minutes. Remove from heat.

Drain orange sections, reserving juice. Combine juice with cornstarch, marmalade, and salt. Mix well and pour over meat; add oranges. Bring to boiling, reduce heat and simmer, covered, 2 to 2 1/2 hours, or until fork tender. Add mushrooms (whole) and fingerling carrots before cooking is complete (just long enough to heat them through).

XI ZETA MU MEETS

BELLE GLADE — A report on the Founders Day Dinner of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority was given by members of the XI Zeta Mu Chapter by Mrs. J.D. Lee, III, at the chapter's April 28 meeting held at the home of Mrs. William Acree.

Members attending included Mrs. James Chamberlain, Mrs. Gordon Corbin, Mrs. Gene Enginger, and Mrs. Tom Swazer.

... and whatnot by Ailsa Dewing

Years ago there was a TV newscast during which the announcer said this time would be something like: "And now here is the film taken earlier today at the scene . . ." And three times the newscaster was left staring into the camera and nothing happened. He stared at us in televisionland and we stared back at him sitting in the studio.

The first two times he apologized for the difficulties and said the film would be shown later in the program. After the third try, he said, "We regret we are unable to show you the film due to technical difficulties."

The same conditions have prevailed around here for the last month every time we've tried to publish the telephone number of the Crisis Stabilization Unit. Because the CSU has opened since the telephone book was published, there is no listing in the directory.

Being a community-minded newspaper, we fearlessly printed the CSU phone number that anyone may call to get help for someone who is having thoughts of suicide more rapidly than anyone can call who needs emergency shelter when a family argument turns into physical violence.

The first time we inadvertently gave out the Crisis Intervention phone number for the CSU number. An honest mistake and one we wouldn't repeat, we told the folks at the Community Mental Health Service.

And we didn't. The next time we used the right phone number. But somewhere in the printing process, a 9 came up and took the place of a 0 on its way into print.

The next time we had occasion to print the number, we got it right, and it stayed right.

Heady with success, we repeated the number in the headline. Almost. This time two numbers changed places while nobody was looking.

Under usual circumstances, when a mistake is made in newsprint, we publish a correction and make an apology.

And that's what we did.

But for circumstances "beyond belief" there is no easy solution.

According to the mathematics of probabilities, a seven-number series can be rearranged 25 different ways. Those are terrifying odds. Especially when each possibility of another wrong number ups the chances of another unsuspicious person's number being used from his/her/their bed at 3 am in a genuine panic for help.

Obviously some corollary of Murphy's Law is at work here that we are ignorant of. But ignorance of the law is no excuse.

So what to do? Forget the whole thing? Admit it's a numbers game and we can't win?

That's no help to people who may need the number. On the other hand, we sure don't want to go through all the fine possibilities before lucking out with the right number.

So we'll give it three more tries. The telephone number of the Crisis Stabilization Unit is 996-8077. That's 996-8077. Got it? 996-8077.

If you do please write it down. Our luck could run out again at any moment.

low places or overwatering since root damage or root rot could occur.

Mulching is also beneficial in many instances to reduce weed competition and to help keep the soil from drying out as rapidly.

Most varieties of gardenias flower from March through June and bushes should not be pruned during this time unless you are willing to accept reduced numbers of flowers. The best time for pruning gardenias is during the summer after the bloom period. Usually pruning is not needed very often except to shape the bush and remove any weak or diseased branches.

Sucking pests such as scale and whiteflies may present a problem during the spring and summer months. There are a number of gardenias sprays available in local garden supply stores.

Gardenias are also subject to iron deficiencies and an iron supplement is sometimes required in addition to regular fertilizing to keep them in good health.

Periodically older leaves may turn yellow and drop off. This is particularly no-

CSC will meet May 14

Doreen Land, new director of the Belle Glade Health Center, will be introduced to the community and will be a speaker at the Community Services Council meeting Wednesday, May 14, at 12:30 p.m. in the Glades Office Building.

Also slated to speak is Michael Cavanaugh who is working in the Glades area with former farm laborers interested in vocational education under a CETA program for persons 16 years of age and older.

The May meeting is the last of the season. There will be a summer recess of three months before meetings resume in September.
